

TRICORBRAUN®

IN-HOUSE MOLD DEVELOPMENT

A rarity among packaging distributors, we offer in-house mold development and a production tooling shop.

Our onsite team includes experienced mold designers, tool path programmers, and machinists, plus expertise in polishing, final assembly, and machine maintenance.

Our customers appreciate the flexibility and speed to market this value-added service provides!

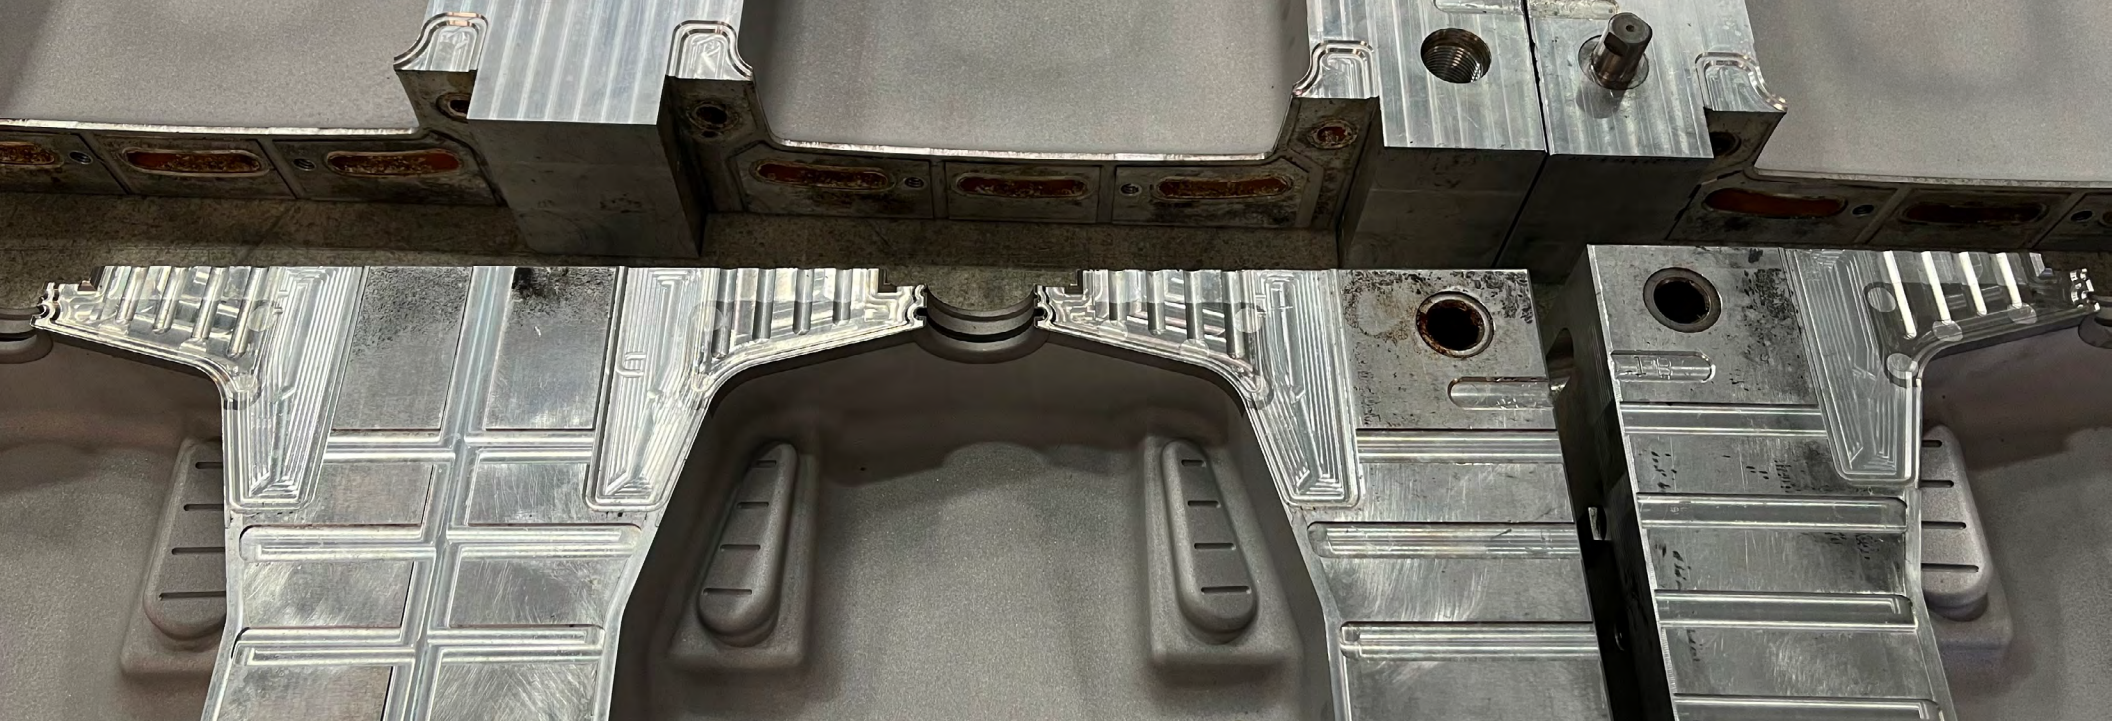

From our design and engineering expertise to our mold development center, we have the experience and in-house capabilities to take you from concept to commercialization. Add in our extensive supply chain and best-in-class project management, and we've got your back every step of the way.
